Consist is one of the few companies in Germany that has been nominated for the coveted premiere special award in the Germany-wide competition for the “Großer Preis des Mittelstandes”.

Kiel – Consist Software Solutions has been nominated again for a premiere special award this year in the "Großer Preis des Mittelstandes" competition. Last year, the company made it as far as the jury stage in this same sector. Consist won the award in 2011 and was a finalist in 2009 for the Großer Preis des Mittelstandes in the economic region of Schleswig-Holstein / Hamburg.

"After winning the Mittelstandspreis in 2011, we're even happier to have been nominated again as a premier in this well-known competition," says Consist Managing Director Martin Lochte-Holtgreven. "Consist has grown rapidly in the past few years, both in terms of turnover and number of staff, as well as in our regional presence with the opening of our new office in Frankfurt in 2016," says Martin Lochte-Holtgreven about the development of Consist.

The business prize is awarded every year by the Oskar-Patzelt-Stiftung, and considers not only figures, innovation, and jobs, but also the company as a whole and its complex role in society. The competition is being held for the 22nd time in 2016.

About the competition

Every year in November, the Oskar-Patzelt-Stiftung calls on communities and associations, institutions and companies to nominate outstanding midsize companies to the competition. Special prizes are also awarded.

Winners and finalists are selected by twelve regional juries and a final jury. In each economic region, up to three companies can be named award winners and five others as finalists. Award winners are announced only on the evenings of the awards celebrations in September and October.
