IT specialists attending Splunk.conf 2017 and IT GRC Congress

Consist-Consultants: sought-after speakers on current IT topics

Kiel –

8. Splunk.conf 2017

On 25.09.2017 it is time again: More than 4,000 participants are expected at this year's Splunk User Conference in Washington. During the four-day conference, users from all over the world will present the latest information on processing and analyzing large amounts of data. Consist is also present as a Splunk partner at this event, including an interesting breakout session. Martin Müller, a Splunk Certified Architect at Consist, has extensive experience in heterogeneous IT environments and will report on the subject of "Fields, Indexed Tokens and You" can be better limited to speed up searches.

Splunk is the leading platform for operational intelligence in real-time and has achieved the world's highest market share in IT Operations (ITOA) Software and IT Event and Log Management Software. In the areas of security, Big Data Analytics and Internet of Things, Consist implements solutions on this basis for many medium-sized companies and corporations. Regular lectures at User Group meetings, also in Germany, are part of Consist's commitment to this field.

2. IT-GRC Congress

The optimization of data streams is also a very interesting lecture by Consist at the 2nd IT-GRC congress in Berlin from 28-29.09.2017 - here with a focus on data security, from the inside out. Companies continue to face the greatest threat from so-called in-house threats due to operating errors, too much careless handling of data, or targeted manipulation from the outside. A live simulation shows a security incident that can happen in any company at any time of day or night.

Dennis Buroh, Senior Consultant IT-Security at Consist, will show how attacks can be quickly detected, analyzed and data losses prevented. In the area of data protection and optimization, in which the company is constantly moving, it provides a solution that ensures all legal requirements for data security in companies. The two-day event will be opened by the President of the by the President of the Federal Office for Constitutional Protection, under the motto "Information Governance & Digital Charter". It wants to show companies how maximum information security can be achieved while at the same time adhering to data protection requirements. A factsheet on the subject is available at www.consist.de.
